U. S. Coinage Production Increases Sharply In 1960

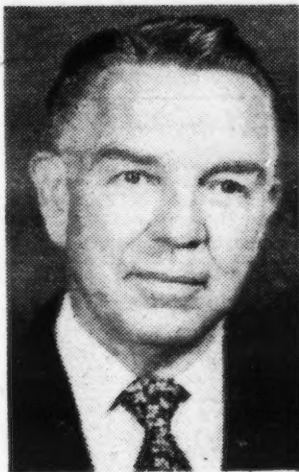

New Catalog From Regency

Regency Coin and Stamp Co. Ltd. of Canada has just released its newest catalog, Accessory Price List No. 5.

"We take pride of the fact that this is easily the most complete and most attractive catalog of numismatic and philatelic supplies ever produced in Canada," commented Somer James, Regency president.

"There are many items listed in this catalog that have never before been made available to the retail trade on a wholesale basis," he added.

The catalog may be obtained without charge by writing to Regency Coin and Stamp at 157 Rupert Avenue, Winnipeg 2, Manitoba.

Wm. H. Brett, director of the Mint, under whose authority the "Annual Report" is issued. The Cleveland, Ohio executive served a five-year term under an appointment by Eisenhower.

Annual Mint Report Reveals Big Upswing In Nation's Needs

"A heavy demand for domestic coins in 1960 resulted in a production increase of 63 per cent over that of the previous fiscal year." The activities of the mint were stated in one sentence.

Last week "The Annual Report of the Director of the Mint for the Fiscal Year Ending June 30, 1960" was published, making the current yearly edition the 88th to appear since 1873.

Issued over the signature of William H. Brett, Director of the Mint from 1953 to 1960, the 127-page, fact-crammed pamphlet contains information on the activities of the Bureau of the Mint for 1960 and a summary of previous years.

Production for fiscal year 1960 was 2.6 billion coins for the United States with a face value of $89 million that required 9,749 tons of metal.

In addition, the Philadelphia Mint manufactured 311.5 million coins for other countries.

The Bureau of the Mint, established in 1873, is charged with several responsibilities; manufacturing coins and medals is only one.

Its responsibility extends to the "custody, processing, and movement of gold and silver bullion," the administration of the gold and silver regulatory acts, and the distribution of coins between the Mints, the Federal Reserve Banks, and the Treasury in Washington.

The coinage output for 1960, while high for a peace time year, (Continued on Page 2)

J.F.K. Takes Medals Along To Distribute

President John F. Kennedy took 400 Presidential Art medals and an unknown quantity of inaugural medals, distributed by the Coin and Currency Institute, to the summit meeting in Europe last week.

The president planned to distribute the medals bearing his portrait to officials on his trip to Paris, London and Vienna, according to a State Department official.

William T. Louth, president of Medallic Art Company, New York City, where both medals were struck, said the State Department ordered 1,000 of the newly released Presidential Art medals.

According to Louth, an officer in the Chief of Protocol office picked up 400 medals May 29 for the summit trip to Europe from Medallic Art's plant, 325 East 45th Street, New York.

President Kennedy used the two and three-quarter inch inaugural medals (a Coin and Currency Institute distribution exclusive) as gifts in Canada on a recent trip there.

"The Presidential Party was stimulated by the warm reception of the medals in Canada," said Louth.

"The State Department approached us to manufacture a miniature of the inaugural medal," he said.

Louth explained that his firm was about to strike a similar medal for Presidential Art Medals, Inc., Dayton, Ohio, bearing a portrait of Kennedy on a medal an inch and a quarter size.

A sample of the Presidential Art medal was sent to the State Department as soon as the first strikes were made. This resulted in the order of 1,000 medals for President Kennedy's use in Europe, Louth said.

Special cards were printed with the inscription, "Compliments John F. Kennedy, President of the United States" to accompany each medal.

Max Humbert, of Dayton, vice president of Presidential Art Medals, Inc., said he was "overwhelmed" by the announcement of President Kennedy's intended use of their medal.

Collectors have accepted their medal, too, Humbert said. "The platinum medals sold out in one day."

Two Bankers Among ANA Candidates

Harold H. Berk

Harold H. Berk, 44-year-old Warren, Ohio, numismatist, is a candidate for the American Numismatic Association's Board of Governors.

A collector for 30 years, Berk owns and operates the Warren Coin Shop, 148 Main Avenue, S. W., in Warren.

He has been a member of the A.N.A. for six years, and holds Life Member No. 361.

"If I am elected, I believe I shall be able to help formulate plans and ideas that can be used by individual clubs to increase interest and obtain new members," Berk said.

"I have been instrumental in helping to lay out plans which are used by three clubs in this area, all of which have membership rolls of 700 collectors or more," the Warren man said. "This is all the more surprising as the total population of Warren, Ohio, is about 60,000."

His platform as a Board of Governors candidate has six points:

Increased A.N.A. membership. Closer association with individual clubs; giving them aid whenever possible.

Formation of State Trustees, one of each state, to be responsible to the Board of Governor of that area.

Availability of low cost coin information.

Eldridge G. Jones

Eldridge G. Jones, of Washington, D. C., official representative of the American Numismatic Association in the nation's capital, is seeking election as the A.N.A. treasurer.

Jones is a banker, a graduate of the American Institute of Banking and a member of the staff of the Riggs National Bank, the area's largest bank, since 1935. In 1957 he became assistant manager of the Chevy Chase branch.

Appointed in March, 1959, as District of Columbia representative, Jones was the official Washington link to qualify A.N.A. for a federal charter.

However, Jones has represented the A.N.A. in Washington for a long time as "unofficial" ambassador.

He has served the A.N.A. in these capacities: Election committee, 1952; vice chairman, National Coin Week, 1953; resolutions committee, 1956 convention; convention papers committee, 1960.

Administrative service to numismatic organizations has long been the interest of Candidate Jones. As member No. 99 of the Washington Numismatic Society since 1941, he was president in 1947 immediately between Col. Joseph Moss and Admiral O. H. Dodson, both of whom later became presidents of the A.N.A.

Harold R. Klein

Harold R. Klein, Hinsdale, Ill., an American Numismatic Association officer since 1949, is a candidate for re-election as treasurer of the association.

Life Member No. 75, and a member of the A.N.A. since 1937, Klein held the post as second vice president from 1947 to 1949. That year he was elected treasurer, and has continued in that position until the present—a total of 12 years.

At the time Klein was elected treasurer the total assets of the A.N.A. were approximately $56,000. The total assets now exceed $100,000, or nearly double since 1949.

Klein has the highest qualifications as a financier—he has been a member of the staff of the First National Bank of Hinsdale (a suburb of Chicago) since 1933. He holds the position of executive vice president and a member of the Board of Directors.

A.N.A. President Admiral O. H. Dodson, USN (Ret.) says of Klein:

"Over many years you have served as a dedicated and highly capable officer of the A.N.A. Your wide experience in the field of banking, your mature and sound advice, particularly in fiscal matters, have been invaluable to our association."

"It is my personal hope that you will continue to serve the A.N.A. eventually in positions of greater responsibility. The loss of your

John Jay Pittman

John Jay Pittman, Rochester, N. Y. is currently completing his first term as a member of the American Numismatic Association Board of Governors. The 47-year-old numismatist has been a member of the A.N.A. since 1943.

Pittman is seeking re-election to the A.N.A. Board of Governors, not on a "political platform," but on his record as a Board Member and as a working and contributing member of the many A.N.A. committees and panels on which he has served.

Pittman states that, if re-elected, he will continue to advance the ideals of the A.N.A. and help the organization fulfill its objectives as outlined in its federal charter and constitution and by-laws.

For the past four years he has served as chairman of the A.N.A. Edward T. Newell Visual Education committee which prepares slide sets on numismatic items which are so interesting and helpful, as well as educational, for A.N.A. member club meetings.

He has served the A.N.A. in many capacities over the past 13 years, having been a member of the 1949 Junior Coin Club committee, the 1958 Resolutions committee, the 1949 and 1958 Convention Education Panels. Recently he was appointed a member of the joint A.N.A.—C.N.A. Convention Committee for 1962.

La Velle Robbed Again

Victor La Velle was robbed again.

For the second time the Los Angeles amputee's home was broken into and thieves made off with most of his coin collection.

This time they took his entire collection of foreign coins, all of his U. S. and foreign currency, his proof sets and most of the coins that were sent to him by Coin World readers from all over the world—even from as far away as South America and Saudi Arabia.

(Coin World readers rallied to La Velle's assistance when he was robbed two months ago, and sent him hundreds of dollars in coins to help him set up a coin dealership.

(La Velle lost his left leg in an auto accident. In 1958 he was involved in another accident when his car plunged over a 10-foot embankment, killing his two sons, Lawrence, 7, and Steven, 6.

(Victor was seriously injured and his artificial leg smashed. To climax his bad luck streak, the nucleus of a coin dealership was stolen from his home two months ago.)

"I have hesitated to write this letter," La Velle said when he advised Coin World of the most recent robbery, "because I do not want you to feel that this is an appeal to start another campaign. It is not. People rarely get a second chance as I did and I am very grateful for it, even though things went very badly anyway. "I know I will never get a third chance and I do not expect one. I am not licked yet. I still plan to use what is left of my collection to start a small mail order business from my home," he said.

According to the Los Angeles Examiner, La Velle's collection was worth about $2,000 in the market.

La Velle said the thieves even carried off boxes of mail containing coins that had been sent to him that he had not yet answered.

The burglary occurred May 28 between 8 and 11:30 p.m. while he had taken a night off from answering mail to go to a movie.

The house was entered in the same way as before; a screen was pried off the rear bedroom window of La Velle's bungalow court apartment at 4254 Normal Avenue.

"They took the pillow cases off my bed to help carry the coins away," La Velle said. "This time the police were able to find fingerprints."

He had just applied for insurance on the collection and was in the process of taking inventory when the robbery occurred. The only items insured at the time were the proof sets.

"I had devoted more time to answering letters and thanking people for the coins they sent to me than I had spent in taking inventory," La Velle said.

"I certainly did not expect them to strike again. I have raced through the inventory on my remaining coins and now have insurance protection on what is left of my collection."

He said he still planned to start a mail order business.

"I will not get rich, but at least I will continue to be self-supporting and that is all I really want, anyway. I only hope these crooks are apprehended before they destroy someone else's dream," said La Velle as he expressed thanks for all the efforts on his behalf.

management ability and your competent able advice at Board meetings would be keenly felt by the A.N.A. The A.N.A. needs officers of your caliber.

"I hope you will stand for reelection as treasurer," Admiral Dodson said.

Treasurer Klein is a member of many numismatic organizations including life member No. 5, Central States Numismatic Society, Chicago Coin Club, Oak Park, Ill., Coin Club, Iowa Numismatic Association, California State Numismatic Association and Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association.

He was awarded the Medal of Merit by the American Numismatic Association in 1953.

Klein's wife, Blanche is a charming partner with many friends and a deep interest in the hobby, too. Their three children are Deborah, Patricia and Robert.

New Medal Series To Have History Theme

Brave men who perished in the Battle of the Alamo in 1836 are honored by the first in a series of historical commemorative medals, announced by Shawnee Hills Medalists of Harrisburg, Ill.

The piece was designed by Daniel Satterfield of the Shawnee Hills art staff.

Roy C. Small, president of the firm, said one issue to be released each year will commemorate an important event in the history of the United States.

The medallion shows in the center the historic old mission-fortress with a battle-tattered flag waving proudly in the breeze. In the foreground a long rifle and powder horn lie in the dust overdraped by a Lone Star banner. The obverse legend reads: The Battle of the Alamo, 125th Anniversary, 1836-1961.

The reverse side features this legend within a wreath: In memory of the small band of brave men who, for 13 days, withstood the onslaughts of the Mexican hordes under the tyrant Santa Anna. These gallant soldiers died to the last man at the Battle of the Alamo, defending their right to freedom and the independence of the Lone Star Republic of Texas.

The medal, one and one-half inches, will be executed in bronze, sterling silver and platinum to advance order only. The precious medals will be limited in quantity and serially numbered. Special presentation pieces will be struck for Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and four other prominent Texans. Prices are $2 for bronze, and $7.50 for sterling silver. Platinum prices are available on request.

Missourians Plan Election

Missouri Numismatic Society's Monday, June 12 meeting was to have been held at the Hotel Claridge, St. Louis.

Main order of business was to be the voting for officers for 1961-62.

Plans are still in progress for the society's second annual Coin Festival, set for Saturday and Sunday, August 12 and 13, at the Statler Hotel, 9th and Washington, St. Louis.

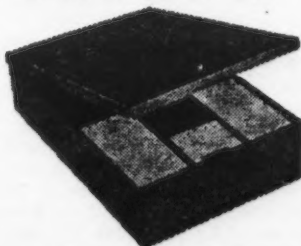

David L. Cooper, Coin Festival general chairman, has announced that more than 20 bourse tables have been reserved thus far. Reservations can be secured by writing to Cooper at 3500 Ridgedale, St. Louis 20.

How To Be An Expert

We are frequently asked about numismatic experts. Who is an expert on certain coins, who decides whether a person is an expert, and how do you become a numismatic expert?

Since the person himself decides he is going to be an expert—it entails a lot of work—let's take it from there.

First an area or field of specialty should be determined. Too often, collectors choose too large a field. It is difficult to become an expert on all U.S. coins, but more within possibility to specialize in one denomination, or one period, for example.

Next step is to read everything that has been written on the subject. Better yet is to have the literature in your own library. We have seen so-called experts overlooking, ignoring, or even unaware of some of the classic writings in their own field. There is no excuse for this.

Next, collect everything within your chosen specialty. Buy all you can, even duplicates are useful. Along with this step is to study your coins and books.

Beginning at this time you will see the pieces start falling together. Your collection will fit in with the literature, and you will be thrilled to discover new varieties and new information.

Study other collections, both in private hands and any public collections. You can't spend too much time studying.

The final stage that transforms a collector into an expert is to write and talk on the subject. Prepare an article for one of the coin publications. Give a speech at your local coin club. And always be available to answer questions about your specialty. Only by spreading the specialized information you have gained will you become recognized as a specialist and as an expert in your chosen field.

The urge to become an expert is a very exciting experience for any collector.

New Mint Report

The 1960 Annual Report of the Director of the Mint has been added to a long bookshelf of previous Mint Reports. As the official publication of the Bureau of the Mint, it is a storehouse of facts for coin collectors.

While we have to skim over the reports on the "production and consumption of gold and silver" which is an important function of the Bureau of the Mint, but of less interest to collectors, the tables in the back are worth the price of admission.

It is a tremendous job for the Bureau of the Mint to compile this information, and to do an accurate and complete job. Our only criticism is the time delay. There is a 12 month lag for fiscal year information and an 18 month lag for calendar information.

The Mint Report is dated January 3 but it takes six months for it to be printed.

Even so, we will add it to our library every year.

Another Coin Lost?

We are displeased with the Treasury ruling that makes it illegal to own the gold discs struck by the Philadelphia Mint for Saudi Arabia. This was reported in Hans Schulman's column last week.

Their ruling: the discs are bullion and come under the Gold Act of 1934. If so, this is the first time bullion has taken the shape of a coin—a coin that has actually circulated in Saudi Arabia!

The Treasury department has taken another step in its harassment of coin collectors that has been going on for seventy years. This item should be added to the agenda for the A.N.A. committee working with the Treasury officials.

Let's not lose this coin from our collector's cabinets!

Letters To The Editor

It has been said that competition is healthy for business. I sincerely agree with this, but I do not think you do. Every increase in advertising rates imposed by your paper reduces the amount of competition. Why? Because the small dealer like myself cannot afford to continue advertising on a weekly basis. Therefore we are not exposed to the public eye as often causing a reduction in business.

This leads to small dealers giving up their dreams to become full time dealers. Every time a small dealer leaves everyone suffers, the dealer for not being able to continue, the public for less freedom of choice and yourself for one less advertiser. Let's keep the price where it was so that competition will continue to be healthy for business.

I am a new subscriber of Coin World and I enjoy your letters to the editor column very much. I read where someone was ordering coins from a dealer at advertised prices and then his check would be returned, telling him the prices have gone up. That same thing happened to me twice in a row.

I sent a check to a well known coin dealer for some rolls of 1960-D S. D. cents.....advertised at $2.35. Three days later I get a letter back telling me the price is $3.25 a roll. Another time a Canadian set is advertised at $9 and I get a letter telling me the price is now $9.75. I believe that you get what you pay for—so fellow coin collectors, beware of low advertised prices because you are wasting your valuable time.

Reith Coin Exchange

I would like to express my sincere thanks for the fine publicity that you have given our small coin club in your wonderful paper.....It is far better than most of the other magazines have done for us and our members are very happy about the publicity you have given us!

We agree with your comments on counterfeit coins. What puzzles me is how can a dealer legally have counterfeit coins in his possession when anyone else can be arrested and sent to prison for possessing (not passing) a similar counterfeit?

Willie Owens
Oshawa, Ontario

Under separate cover I have just mailed Coin World a check for $27. This is to continue two classified ads for another 13 weeks, also to place a brand new ad.

I also wish to use this means, if I may, to thank the many who have responded to my small ads, also for the trouble they have undertaken to send me cards, thanking me for the promptness in filling orders. You big dealers with three to five weeks delivery take note.

We mail orders same day received regardless of type of remittance. We have had no coins returned and by the same token have had no trouble with personal checks.

It is my personal opinion that Uncle Sam could insure payment on every personal check thereby eliminating bad ones due to the laws. Besides think of all the money saved by practically eliminating the expense of replacing old dirty worn out dollar bills!

Orien Bennett
Caruthersville, Mo.

Most of your letters from the people that you put in the Coin World are from people saying they have had good results with the ads they place in your paper. So you keep raising the price and now it costs $2 to put 25 words in. I believe we, the people, have the right to say if we want our ads to run one, two or 12 months. Maybe dealers have enough, but the little collector does not have singles to sell of one year and mint and grade for two ads.

We enjoy the Coin World in lots of ways and have fun with our coins, but we won't enjoy having our ads run. I know the little collector helped to make Coin World what it is.

I enjoy your paper very much and wish to add this letter to your "Letters to the Editor." I think I have a good idea that could save collectors time looking through rolls of circulated coins purchased at banks. This is the way I add to my collection and I believe most others do, too.

Some of the rolls I receive have bank account numbers on them which would mean that these rolls were brought in by customers. If the numismatic customers would add C. C. (coin collector) before their number, other collectors who purchase these rolls would not take or look through them.

Ronald Donatelli

Enclosed is another renewal from a satisfied subscriber. Think your paper is tops! Would like to see lower grades of coins listed in your Trends columns occasionally. It would be a big help for beginner collectors who collect circulated coins only.

Mary P. Gunderman
Muskegon, Mich.

You have done more for coin collectors than any one media. Your articles are outstanding. I have heard more comments about your paper.....would you please put in the Trends of Today's Coins value the prices of U. S. good. To me you have shown what can be done in this great country of our's.

W. E. Sherman
Palmdale, Calif.

We would like to take this opportunity to express our gratitude for the article you published in the May 18 issue of Coin World, concerning our design for the proposed Ephraim McDowell commemorative coin.

We would like for all your readers who like the design to write us a letter and let us know their views on it.

These letters will be forwarded to our congressman, John Watts, and he can present these letters as the common view of the public, and they may act as a petition to aid in the adoption of the coin.

Keep up the good work at Coin World, as we think it is the greatest source of news for the entire numismatic field.

Wow! Man! and things like that...

Have I been swamped with mail since the Coin World article of May 4. I have received mail from about 12 States, some containing coins for use in my column as prizes for the "youngest collectors."

This makes me feel wonderful, indeed. I never expected anything like this, and will do every thing possible to deserve the attention (and trust) given me.

You've got a great paper, and I'm proud to have had a little part in making it (a small part I must admit) a "hit" in the Morgantown area.

We, here at the Dominion-News, have clipped my article and have had cuts made for publication in the D-N.

So many times I read letters written to you about your advertisers. Some of them are not too favorable. So may I put my two cents worth about one of them.

I ordered a group of coins from Regency, of Canada, for two little friends of mine. This company really went all out for the order. Everything was tops and not just run-of-the-mill stuff.

I know that many large companies sometimes get a little careless about their merchandise. This is not true of Regency. I really believe they sent choice material and, believe me, it's nice to know you can trust their ads. Continue the good work and you'll make many coin collectors happy.

New York Convention 'Smasher'

Albany Site Of Gala Show In Late May

The Empire State Numismatic Association (ESNA) reported a smasher attendance at its convention with the Albany Numismatic Society as host club in the Manger Dewitt Clinton Hotel in Albany, N. Y., May 19-21.

Hundreds turned out from all parts of the state and Canada, and visited the large displays. Over 30 dealers took bourse tables that filled everyone with a good attitude of trade and talk about the hobby.

Charles Heston of Syracuse, seated, convention registration chairman, had a hard time keeping up with attendance figures. Raymond Gallo looks over his shoulder to check the count.

Mayor Erastus Corning, II, of Albany, paid a visit to the convention to honor the living charter members of the 25-year-old host club on Friday night. A special club medal in proof silver was given to each of the charter members. The medal, designed by Alphonse Kolb of the Rochester Numismatic Society, had each member's name engraved on the reverse.

A party was given to those attending the convention immediately afterwards.

Ken Bressett, Racine, Wis., of the Whitman Publishing Company, was a convention guest.

The banquet tickets were sold out the first day of registration, but the able general chairman, James Walser, and his banquet chairman Jacob Cheris, of Albany, managed to get a few more placed by Saturday evening.

The tulip queen, Miss Pat Ponticello, of Albany, paid an official visit to the convention during the banquet. The tulip festival is an annual event in Albany and is the official flower; Albany was first settled by the Dutch known, of course, for their tulips.

Paul C. Christiansen, of Endicott, N. Y., will speak on "Having Fun With Large Cents" at the June 20 meeting of the Triple Cities Coin Club, Endicott, N. Y.

Awards given for the best displays, were:

Class One: U. S. Coins: Charles Ricard, Rochester, N. Y. for a series of commemorative halves, including the Isabella quarter along with commemorative gold pieces.

Class 2: Paper currency: Dr. Jasper L. Robertson, Hoosick Falls, N. Y., a U.S. currency numismatist.

Class 3: Ancients: Dr. Fiori F. Pipito, Amsterdam. His display of gold and silver ancients was accompanied with a card telling the story behind the coinages.

Class 4: Medals: General chairman of the convention, James Walser of Albany, who won for the first time with a unique collection of papal medals from 1534 to date.

Class 5: Foreign: Charles Z. Mihalyi of Glenfield, N. Y., with his famous Hungarian gold display from the year 1342 of Louis I to 1916.

Civil War Centennial Display, a special award: This had to have the date of 1861 to enter. Dr. Kenneth Sartoris, Dr. Sartoris was honored at this convention for being the first president of the ESNA.

Jubilee Award: A special division of 25 different coins in silver required; John J. Pittman of Rochester who had 25 different silver coins from 25 different countries, each one with their own story.

Paul C. Livingston of Syracuse, was chief judge of displays, assisted by Raymond Gallo and Henry Kotzen, both of New York City.

French's of Troy, N. Y., operated a three-session auction of 1490 lots. It carried about every type of coinage including rolls. One development was the price of $218.50 for a roll of uncirculated 1950-D nickels. Rest of the lots went for book and better. The auctioneer, Charles French, ran it off at his usual fast pace. . .

On Sunday, May 21, at the business meeting, election of new officers was the highlight. Dr. Fiori F. Pipito, of Amsterdam, outgoing president of the ESNA, turned the gavel over to Paul C. Livingston, who had served as first vice president. Livingston is a retired General Electric sales manager of Syracuse, and is the president of the Syracuse Numismatic Society.

First Vice President Fred G. Hunter, of Binghamton, moved into the office as the first ever elected from his area of the state. Hunter is serving his second term as president of the Triple Cities Coin Club, which has grown to the largest group in the state. Hunter also has been appointed to take over the managing of the The Stater, the official paper of the ESNA. He edits the club's News Bulletin in Binghamton.

Second vice president-elect is a well known collector of rare coins and catalogs of numismatic books, Charles Schermerhorn, of Albany. He had many books of his rare library on display at the convention.

Re-elected to office of treasurer was Ed Parks, of Syracuse.

Cameraman Fred G. Hunter—who has photography as another one of his many talents—caught this series of informal shots at the recent Empire State Numismatic Association spring convention. From the top down: Ken Bressett, of Racine, Wis., left, was the guest of Q. David Bowers; next photo, William Vanco, left, Vestal, N. Y., first vice president of the Triple Cities Coin Club, chats with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Coston, Hornell, N. Y. Coston, a retired railroad engineer, sells coins for fun at small club shows. The Costons are members of the Triple Cities group. Pat Ponticello, of Albany, tulip queen festival, paid a visit and received a gift from Dr. Fiori F. Pipito, ESNA president, in the next picture. Mr. and Mrs. Earle D. Sherwood, Hurley, N. Y., celebrated their 11th wedding anniversary at the show, and smile about it in the next photo. In the bottom picture the message is obvious. The spring ESNA show will be held in Binghamton in May, 1962. Thomas Novobilski of Johnson City and Joe Lasky of Binghamton have the signs ready. The Triple Cities Coin Club will sponsor the show in connection with their successful Coin Is King exhibition May 18-20 at the Arlington Hotel. (Photos by the Triple Cities Coin Club News Photo Service.)

Charles French of Troy, is secretary, and Mrs. C. F. French, also of Troy, assistant secretary.

The fall convention is to be held in Syracuse with dates to be announced later.

Kenneth Sartoris, Amsterdam, N. Y., winner of the Civil War centennial award, and John J. Pittman, Rochester, 25th jubilee award.

HALF DOLLARS

From the standpoint of interest, availability and number of different varieties, dates and mint marks obtainable the half dollar series is unique in the United States series.

In our opinion early half dollars (pre-1840) are bargains when compared to the prices of other silver coins of the same period. A complete run of dates and major varieties of half dollars from 1807 to 1839, the draped bust left series, may be obtained at a very moderate cost.

1794 First year of issue. Strictly Extremely Fine condition, with a few planchet adjustment marks (made at the Mint) on obverse and reverse; particularly in the lower left portion of the obverse. As any half dollar specialist can tell you, 1794's are almost unobtainable in this condition. This is the finest we have had the privilege to offer in recent years $575.00

1795 The rare Three Leaves variety . . . three leaves under each wing on the reverse. One of the classic rarities of the series. Noted as "Exceedingly rare" by M. L. Beistle in his reference. The specimen here offered is a choice Abt. Fine example $395.00

"1813 50c. over UNI (inverted) . . . The C partly hides the U; the N and I are between the zero and the C. Evidently the word UNITED was first erroneously started below the claws, then corrected. High R-6; most specimens seen are well worn and likely to be passed over unnoticed."

TRANSITIONAL CENTS

1858 C-N Indian cent. Obverse and reverse designs identical in all respects except the date to the regular issue 1859 Indian cent. The first year of one of the most popular series, Indian cents. Trends Of Today's Coin Values

Growth In Service Hobby's Need

By Jim Kelly
333 West First St., Dayton 2, Ohio

Youngsters, businesses, and even cities often grow so fast they have "growing pains." There are times when we feel this same condition is true of coin collecting. This is as normal as a youngster having the measles or mumps and with reasonable care and supervision, are easily overcome. Many coin dealers, as well as numismatic organizations, are operating in the same manner as they did twenty years ago.

Jim Kelly

In 1940 the most optimistic numismatists estimated that there were between 300,000 and 500,000 people who were collecting coins by series. Today a conservative estimate places the figure at close to five million collectors. And the optimistic figure is several times this number!

With such a tremendous growth, it can be easily understood the difficulty the dealers and professional numismatists have in servicing these collectors in the manner which they expect and to which they are entitled.

We speak from experience as we have increased our personnel and have added more equipment at least once a year during the past several years, but by the time these are working effectively, we find they are inadequate to handle the increased correspondence and business.

We are not trying to make excuses or apologies for dealers who do not give prompt service, but rather an explanation as to why it is not always possible to fill all orders the same day they are received.

We write this as an answer to many impatient collectors who have bemoaned the fact that it takes a week or ten days to receive their orders, even from nearby dealers.

We know of one instance during the past week where a dealer received seventy-three orders in one day from his ad in Coin World alone. With only one employee, it was physically impossible to pack and ship all of these in one day.

In addition to this, he was receiving orders from his other advertisements. There is no reason why it should take two or three weeks to receive an order from any company, but we believe a little patience and understanding will make for better relations between collector and dealer.

Schulman Reports

Cards From Europe, New Publications Received

Numismatists are leaving for Europe by the dozen and we already received postcards from Dr. George (Coin Galleries) Weyr, who enjoyed the hospitality of the Prince of Liechtenstein in Vaduz, the capital of this tiny independent Princedom lying between Switzerland and Austria.

Hans Schulman

Also received cards from Mortimer and Trudy Humel just after they arrived in Paris and who are planning a tour through the Middle East; and from Harvey Hoffer, bathing under the beautiful Grecian sun.

Poor Bill Selfridge, the other half of Kay Coin Service, is bathing under the New York City 47th street sun . . . cards from others too numerous to mention . . . Lou and Ann Horowitz getting ready to go to Madrid and Jerusalem. Dr. Herbert Cahn of Monnaies and Medailles, Basel, and Dr. L. Mildenberg, of Bank Leu Zurich, both visited New York before their respective beautiful art sales and report a record success in prices and attendance during these auctions. Congratulations to both.

The bad news department says that Xavier Calico has declined to become the next president of the International Association of Professional Numismatists. We in Coin World are very sorry to learn this and we hope he will change his mind before the convention.

The IAPN convention will meet in Rome on Thursday, September 7th with registration and a welcome. General assembly for members on Friday and Saturday, September 8 and 9 and including a visit to the Vatican, also to see the coins and we hope an audience with the Pope at Castelgandolfo. The banquet comes on Saturday night. A beautiful excursion is planned on Sunday, September 10. More about the excursion when the official invitations are sent. On the 11th the International Congress starts with its registration.

The IAPN convention will meet ably mostly be registered at the Hotel Plaza situated in the heart of Rome on the Corso, near the Via Condotti.

Your columnist attended the Central States convention in Minneapolis and met so many friends that it would take pages to enumerate them all. Let me mention that I was happy to see Barney O'Hea in full numismatic fling after a trip behind the Iron Curtain which took him far away from the beaten path. He showed me two Hungarian coins never seen in the West before: 20 pengoe 1928 and 1929. These coins are consigned to the Atomic collection for Waldorf Astoria auction June 20th. It was nice to see that Ray Yablun was back with the numismatic fraternity. We wish him good luck.

At the heavily attended Metropolitan convention in New York we saw film star Gene Kelly . . . I am sorry; my error . . . it was our own numismatic friend Benedetti from Darien, Connecticut who resembles Gene Kelley so much that he could double for him.

"Coin Galleries" pricelist just received. Good work Jim Risk and Dr. Weyr. A nice list and interesting articles.

Another auction sale from James Kelly who is what we call "The convention auctionhouse" running more convention sales than any other firm. This is hard work and we should admire Jim for having time to not only run the "Coin trends" in "Coin World" but to put out more catalogues and lists than anybody else in recent months.

Old friend Eddie Gans of Numismatic Fine Arts published a pricelist of Greek coins No. 27 always ably edited. We are glad he is well and remember the days that he was in New York and "part of the boys".

"Aureus" the modern quarterly of "Aureus Magnus" issue No. 4 from Munich ably written by our own friend Werner Graul describes in 28 pages many interesting phases of numismatics and particularly about gold.

You can get a copy from Wer-

Brothers Hosts To Dealers

The famous brothers, Ernesto (left) and Alberto Santamavia, of Rome, are hosts and organizers of the International Association of Professional Numismatists Congress, to be held in Rome Saturday and Sunday, September 9 and 10, just prior to the convening of the International Numismatic Congress there September 11-16. The Santamavia firm is one of the oldest European numismatic houses.

ner Graul, Vingerstrasse 11. Munich 55 if you are interested.

Dwight Musser, the foreign paper money expert sends us the book by him and Edgar Berzins "Paper Money of the Baltic States". Something new and unpublished. Very interesting.

We have been asked if it is permitted to collect the Tangier issue of the firm of Rothschild, the so-called "Hercules" coin of one ounce of gold and listed by Robert Friedberg on page 361, under No. 1. value $80 in "Gold Coins of the World." It is our opinion that this coin cannot be held by American collectors here or abroad as it is concerned "bullion" and not regular coin.

I forgot to tell you in my last column that one of the most refreshing catalogues to come from the USA is one written by Peter B. Payne of San Bernardino, Calif. This catalogue lists US and foreign coins; is printed in many colors; has odd and curious monies illustrated among the dry listing of dates of US coins and is worth your while. Well done, Peter.

Also received price lists from Boutin, Paris; The New Zealand Numismatic Journal; Yearbook of the British Association of Numismatic Societies; the attractive issue of the Numismatic Society of Puebla in Mexico and lists of Ars and Nummis, Milan; Binder in Hamburg and Lanz in Graz, Austria.

Pontiac Issues

Tokens, Nickels

Golden-bronze 50-cent tokens and wooden nickels are being distributed from the Pontiac, Mich., Centennial Headquarters for the June 17-24 celebration, according to Horace W. Lodge, chairman.

Only one-fourth of the Pontiac area population will get the tokens, Lodge said.

Detroit Dealer Looks To Canadian Tomorrow

"There's a real future in Canadian coins," stated veteran Detroit Coin and Stamp dealer Albert E. Butzen (A.N.A. 230002) in an interview with Coin World. "Exactly why?" he was asked.

"Simply because Canadian coins have had relatively low mintages," came the answer, "and because there are so many different varieties. There's every reason to believe that Canadian coin prices will continue to rise, especially for the more elusive varieties."

Butzen pointed out some of the more interesting varieties peculiar to Canadian coins. One was the 1926 5 cent nickel which has a "near 6" and a "far 6" in relation to the maple leaf design on the reverse.

He also indicated that the 1936 Canadian "dot" coins were popular. Mysterious dots appeared on the one cent, 10 cent, and 25 cent coins for that year. There is still no universally accepted explanation for the dots, although many dots have subsequently been faked.

"Detroit is a good coin collecting city," continued Butzen, who has been a dealer for over 30 years in the Motor City. "The number of clubs has not only increased in the city proper, but every suburb, no matter how small, now seems to have its own club."

Al Butzen, who operates his shop at 212 E. Grand River, is a 25-year member of the Detroit Coin Club. He has long kept a sign in his shop reading, "Don't Just Stand There, Buy Something."

SLADE'S SHELL SHOCKED

RECOIL

About 2 weeks ago, the Georgia Peach lashed out at me rather maliciously, though he was not at the time offering similar items. Now I have pondered the whole situation, trying to think of the most proper way of replying. Dozens of my customers have written to ask what I am to do, but not one to say that the Georgia Peach is right. So I'm going to let the whole thing go by returning his love and kisses, the same way I returned the last roll I purchased from him when I urgently needed it to finish a roll set.

My inventory of single coins is pretty messed up right now since I got into the set and roll business but I sure have got some nice BU sets. At this writing, all of the Bust $1.00 are sold but 2 (out of 18), and surprisingly all of the rare half dollars. In a couple of weeks I'm going to sit down and write a good buffalo ad for my old customers.

Shotgun

BU SETS BU

I'm not even started on the ad and people have already started to interrupt. Anyway, here goes. My Lincoln sets BU 1934-1961 have sold beyond my wildest hopes. The last roll set sold out in only 4 days, and it took over a week to get another together. Now, however, I have 2 1/2 full roll sets of Lincolns on hand, and should have some for everyone. The dimes lasted a little longer - about 8 or 9 days, but now I have another roll set ready. Also, I have many new nickel sets on hand, and just bought 10 more 50c sets.

To keep this going, those of you who have roll sets or single sets for sale please let me know. Remember, I have to buy to sell.

BU LINCOLNS

Remember, every one of these coins is from a BU roll with spotted coins and culls all (I hope) removed. I work close and still try to send the best!

1934-1961-PDS BU $28.35
Buy $22.00 per set, $1100.00 per roll set

1935-1961-PDS BU $23.65
Buy $17.50 per set, $875.00 per roll set

BU Roosevelt Dimes

This is a nice set to buy now. It's cheap now, but the 1949-S dime could be another 1936-D 25c, the 1950-S, 1951-S, and 1949-P comparable to the 1937-S, 1938, and 1940-D quarters BU. Also, because they are such a small coin, all BU specimens are relatively free of bag marks and well struck. All my coins are of course from BU rolls.

1946-1960-PDS BU $32.50
Buy $25.50 per set, $1275.00 per roll set

INDIAN-CENTS-LINCOLNS

I have just picked up a couple of handfuls of BU Indian cents and a few Lincolns. In addition, one of my customers decided to dispose of his uncur. Indian and Lincoln cents. When they arrived, I found that many were cleaned, but were very nice and ranged from XF to Unc. In addition to my own few coins, I have listed below all of these pieces, exactly as they appear to me and as they should appear to you. Remember, I don't make anything extra on them by overgrading:

BU Jefferson Nickels

This is another set on its way to the moon. Rolls of the key dates are virtually non-existent. There are probably not enough BU 1938-S, 1939-D, or 1942-D to allow 1 BU set for each 10 collectors today. Any set I buy or sell will be as good or better than my competitors will supply. For those of you who are particular and like to spend money, write for a price on a hand selected set when available.

1938-1960-PDS BU $86.50
Buy $72.00 per set, $2850.00 per roll set

BU Franklin Halves

This set is unique in that the rolls cost as much at retail as the sets, and possibly more. No one will advertise the rolls separately at a total price of less than $1000.00, which is $50.00 per set. I have some nice sets on hand.

1948-1960-PDS BU $51.00
Buy $40.00 per set, $800.00 per roll set

DON'T FORGET!

I want to buy BU rolls, sets, and scarce coins. Not just S-VDB's and such, either. I like early type coins, etc. and nice material, not junk!

From my last ad in Coin World I purchased every single proof set sent to me and shipped every set ordered. This was in spite of the fact that I okayed shipping 100 lots of common proofs. Now, I'll be only too glad to receive lots of any proof sets, up to 10 of any date, without writing. On larger lots, please write. I need all the proofs I can get before 1955 also; just write for a firm offer. I still look inside before buying or selling. DEALERS - Write for lot prices on proofs!

STANDING LIBERTY QUARTERS

These coins are so far underpriced it's pitiful. It is virtually impossible to find a single common coin in circulation in VG or Fine today. Those pieces before 1925 can't even be found in fair today. Now, the pieces I list below on the uncur. coins may seem high if you look only at the book, but I can sincerely say that almost every piece is much scarcer than an S-VDB. Also, most are full head coins:

BU ROLLS BU

A convention is no place for a roll dealer under normal circumstances, but Penn-Ohio was the exception! Everything was hot! It looks like we are starting into the best roll market ever! Since my last ad, I've picked up a very nice inventory of rolls, and expect to fill a higher percentage of orders than ever.

Those of you who have rolls to sell, please write or ship. I need all the material I can get. To date I've refused virtually nothing at all other than a few 1960-D small date cents.

Above all, if you have scarce dates for sale, call or write. I will even pay a premium for quality.

Time Will Tell About Variances In '59 Nickel

Fred E. Struebing of Chicago sends in some 1959 Jefferson nickels and wants to know something about them. Two of them have the "unshaven chin", and the other pair have definitely thick and thin dates and lettering.

COMMENT: The unshaven Jefferson is from a defective die and, since we have had other reports on them, it must have been a die in use for some time, making a distinct "type" of 1959.

The thick and thin dates and lettering could have three causes, namely: difference in dies or a die variety; difference in force used in making the impression, with the heavier force making the thinner or sharper inscription; or one was from a new die, the thinner and sharper one, and the other from the same or another die when it had been used for some time and become worn.

We advise putting them away for a few years until more is known about Jefferson nickels. It takes time to learn whether differences like that are due to die varieties or to other causes. Printing this may help to find out.

Everett Sintz of New Trenton, Ind., comes up with a new one (to us), a 1946-D Mercury dime, and wants to know if it is rare and valuable.

ANSWER: If authentic, it is both rare and valuable. But it must first be proved authentic. It could be like the 1923-D which crops up occasionally and has never been either proved or disproved, as far as we know. That the Mint denies making any means nothing.

When the Mint or any branch of it makes something it is not strictly authorized to make, meaning anything not specifically authorized such as U. S. coins on foreign planchets and silver cents and a few other odds and ends, it says "Who, me? Never!" and looks the other way.

It has to. A denial from the Mint means it either didn't do something intentionally or didn't do it legally, or the person denying it didn't know it was done, and the denial should be taken that way.

So you could have a 1946-D Mercury dime, regardless of anything the Mint says, but it would have to be thoroughly tested before we would believe it. But we won't say it couldn't happen. Anything can happen, or almost. And the Mint could have made some 1946 dies before it was certain that the design would be changed. We don't know anything about that, but it could have happened, with one of them getting accidentally shipped to Denver.

Let's see if any more turn up.

C. S. Swanick of Great Lakes, Ill., sends in a picture of a "Feuchtwanger" cent and says he can't identify it or value it, with his only reference being a Red Book mention on page 85 under 3-cent nickels. He would like information.

ANSWER: Feuchtwanger coined some one-cent and 3-cent pieces in 1837 as a trial of what he said was a new kind of metal. Varieties exist but the most common are identified by Low's Hard Times Token No. 120, and are valued at between $2 and $5 depending on condition. That is it, very briefly.

Hod Ludlow of Cook, Minn., wants to know if it is possible to have a Mint-sealed Mint set with small date 1960-P or 1960-D cent.

ANSWER: We would say it is extremely unlikely. Our information is that Mint-Sets are made up toward the end of the year of coinage, so unless either the dies or coins were saved for that purpose, both of which are unlikely, we do not believe it is possible. It would, of course, be possible to get dealer-sealed Mint sets with (Continued on Page 26)

Russia Jails Collectors

Nine of Russia's most successful coin and currency collectors have been jailed. They will be among the first Soviet citizens to feel the full weight of recent Russian decrees which provide heavy penalties for "speculators" and others who lead a "parasitical way of life."

Specifically, the nine Russians are charged with "violating currency transaction regulations" and "large-scale speculation in valuables." Soviet authorities say the "gang" bought large amounts of foreign coins and currency from foreigners and Russian citizens in Moscow and other cities.

The foreign money, including gold coins, was then resold at a big profit. In a single year, the group's foreign money "speculations" allegedly totaled over 20 million rubles.

Money seized from the "speculators" included 344,000 rubles, 1,524 gold coins, about 19,000 dollars, almost 500 British pounds sterling, 3,345 new and 133,000 old French francs, 1,500 German marks, 8,400 Belgian francs, and "other currency." Total weight of the confiscated gold coins was over 12 kilograms (26 pounds).

The official Russian government newspaper Izvestia explained that the "gang" of speculators or their "runners" (agents) usually made their deals by approaching foreigners and addressing them as follows: "Hello, Sir. Don't you have any dollars, Sir? Or pounds sterling, perhaps, Sir?" If the foreigners had no currency to exchange, the "speculators" would express willingness to swap rubles for nylon underwear.

Izvestia charged that some foreigners come into the USSR with concealed money belts full of gold coins and with the obvious intention of making contact with speculators. The gold coins sometimes include five-ruble and ten-ruble pieces minted during the reign of Nicholas II, the last Russian Tsar, who was executed by the Bolsheviks in 1918.

Izvestia said that when the "misery bandits" accumulate large amounts of money "they tremble like rabbits. And when they buy up gold they bury it deep in the earth." One such buried cache comprising "several kilograms of pure gold" was dug up at the dacha (country house) belonging to one of the "speculators."

Continued efforts by Soviet citizens to obtain foreign currency and coins in exchange for far more rubles than are offered at the official exchange rate — and especially the eagerness for gold — tarnish Russian claims that the ruble has become the world's hardest and most desired monetary unit.

United States Leader In Coinage Mint Many Units

World Production Figures Appear In U.S. Mint Report

Sixty-three billion coins were made by 51 mints for 117 countries in the last 10 years.

These are the statistics to come from the "Coinage of Nations" from the Annual Report of the Director of the United States Mint, 1960, and summarized on the opposite page.

This survey of the coin issuing countries covers the period 1950 through 1959—the latest year that complete figures are available.

The United States produced more coins for her people than any other country in nine out of the 10 years surveyed. West Germany out-produced the United States by seven million coins in 1950.

The total number of pieces struck for the 117 countries during the 10-year period is 62,392,197,446.

The U. S. mints produced the first two billion coins in 1959 of any nation in the last decade.

This number was 31.2 per cent of the entire free world coinage.

All nations of the world are included except Russia and the satellite countries. These countries do not release their coinage production figures.

The rank of the first four countries did not change in 1959 over 1958.

Compiled by the office of the Director of the United States Mint, the coinage totals of all nations are published annually in the Mint Report.

The information comes directly from foreign governments by means of a questionnaire sent through the Department of State to United States foreign service officers in each country.

Many nations publish an annual report similar to that of the United States. They include information on coins and coinage statistics.

United States' annual Mint report is the only one that summarizes the coinage statistics of all other nations.

Of the 51 operating mints in the world, 48 are government mints, three are private mints. These 51 mints are located in 38 countries.

Therefore, 79 nations do not have their own mints. Consequently, they seek other country's mints to strike their coins.

The practice of custom striking coins for foreign nations is widespread. The United States has been engaged in this practice since 1877.

Collectors can gain useful information studying the table on the opposite page.

New countries came into existence, or were granted independence. One of the first things they do is issue coins.

Nigeria, Korea, Liberia all had a new coinage beginning in 1959. Ghana, Bermuda and the Philippines had new coins struck starting in 1958.

Sudan became completely independent on January 1, 1956, and struck her first coins in that year.

The year 1955 saw new coinages for both British Caribbean Territories, Rhodesia and Nyasaland. Portuguese Timor issued a new coinage in 1958—its first since 1945.

Some countries, particularly those that have their coins struck at another nation's mint, order a large quantity of coins at one time. These custom-struck coins generally bear the date of one year, and are rather common because of the vast number made.

Venezuela, Cuba, Ethiopia and the French Camerouns are generally the nations that practice this.

Conversely, some nations have a few coins struck each and every year making their coins scarcer. These countries include: Fiji, Mauritius and British Honduras.

Collectors can expect a low mintage for each of these countries if they continue with the same pattern in the future.

The per capita number of coins issued for this 10-year period would be incorrect because of the lack of coinage figures from the U. S. S. R. and her satellites: Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania, Yugoslavia, Poland, East Germany and Communist China.

Estimating that one billion coins are struck in this Russian sphere for these countries each year, the 10-year total for all the world's coins would be close to 73 billion coins.

A per capita number of coins for these current years, using the world population figure of 2,852,000,000 in 1958—is found to be an estimated 23 coins for every man, woman and child in the world.

Congress Top Mint Authority

A law passed by Congress and signed by a President authorizes every action of the Bureau of the Mint, including the issuing of every new coin.

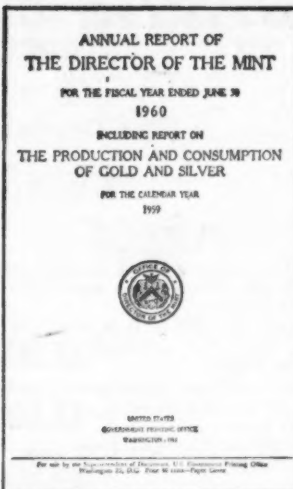

Today's coin denominations are being struck under the authority of the Act of February 12, 1873. This statute did a major overhaul on the nation's coinage at that time.

A four-page table in the current Annual Report gives the date of the authorizing act for all type coins, in all metals, including the commemoratives.

This table, number II, also gives the standard weight, the fineness and the total number pieces coined of each type coin. It is located on pages 41 through 44 in the 1960 Mint Report.

Chrome For Coins

Chrome as a coinage metal is currently used only for Costa Rican coins. It is mixed with steel in the ratio of 17 per cent chrome, to 63 per cent steel. They are manufactured at the Philadelphia Mint in four denominations: Two and one colones, ten and five centimos.

Title Page

Title page of the 1960 "Mint Report" — 88th issued since the formation of the Bureau of the Mint in 1873. Previous "Mint Reports" were published in the Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury, and have been made since the Mint was authorized in 1792.

Number Of Mint Employees Increased Over Last Year

How many employees does it take to run the vast Bureau of the Mint?

As of June 30, 1960, there were 824 people on the payroll. This was an increase over the previous year's number, 758.

The largest number of new employees were added to the coining department at the Philadelphia Mint. The great demand for coins caused the hiring of 28 people bringing that department to a total of 129 individuals—the largest in the Mint Bureau.

The Office of the Director of the Mint has 53 employees; the Philadelphia Mint 302; the Denver Mint 228; New York assay office 159; the San Francisco Mint,

The Bureau of the Mint consists of the Office of the Director, in the Treasury building in Washington, D. C., and six field institutions.

There are two operating mints, at Philadelphia and Denver; two depositories, at West Point, New York, and Fort Knox, Ky., and two assay offices, at New York City and San Francisco.

The old San Francisco Mint, which ceased coinage operations March 31, 1955, is now being used as both an assay office and as a bullion depository.

Basically however, bullion is stored by kind. Gold is stored at Fort Knox, silver at West Point, and all within the jurisdiction of the Bureau of the Mint.

The West Point silver bullion depository operates as an adjunct of the New York assay office. (The superintendent of the New York assay office has charge of the West Point operation.)

Several branch mints have ceased operation. As the supply of ore and economic conditions changed, branch mints were created and, after their usefulness waned, they were closed down.

One act of Congress, in 1838, created three branch mints at once: New Orleans, La.; Charlotte, N. C.; and Dahlonega, Ga. Ironically, all were closed the same year, 1861.

Carson City, Nevada, was the only other branch mint. It operated from 1870 until 1893.

Other branch mints have been considered in other cities, from time to time during the 169 years the Philadelphia mint has been operating.

Mint Reports Extra Money

Does the Director of the Mint owe you 15 cents?

In the current Annual Report, the Director of the Mint gives a detailed account of how he got all the money he deposited in the U. S. Treasury during the year.

One item stands out for the Director's office: "Forfeitures of unclaimed money and property . . . $0.15."

Does this belong to you, or did somebody drop this by the Coke machine?

Of more importance is $420 listed for the Philadelphia Mint. This could be 200 proof sets unclaimed in 1959.

It is listed as: "Unclaimed moneys of individuals whose whereabouts are unknown."

Bureau Of Mint Performs Seven Duties

There are seven jobs the Bureau of the Mint performs.

The two of most interest to numismatists are the manufacture of coins and medals.

But in addition to this the Bureau of the Mint is charge with the distribution of coins. This entails the shipping of coins between the Mints, the Federal Reserve Banks and their branches, and the Treasurer of the U.S. in Washington.

It has charge of the custody, processing and movement of gold and silver bullion.

It also has charge of maintaining the various gold and silver regulations.

And lastly, it performs technical services for the government.

Findlay Club Holds Auction

First regular auction of the Blanchard Valley Coin Club of Findlay, Ohio, was pronounced a great success by club officials who welcomed 11 visitors along with the regular membership.

Some of the auction results were: 1959-P and 1959-D uncirculate cent rolls, $2.75; 1960-D small date cent roll, $5; 1939-D, about very good, $2; 1914-P dimes, good, 50 cents; 1931-P 10 cents, very fine, $2; 1923-P 25 cents, good, $3.

The club plans another auction, to be held June 20 at 7:30 p.m. Lots will include a 1957 Canadian proof set, 1957 U. S. proof set and a 1960 small date proof set.

Coins for the July auction are to be brought to the June meeting; they may be placed in the hands of the auction committee at least two weeks before the July meeting.

Nickel More Complex

The 1960 Mint report calls U.S. current nickel's metallic composition "cupronickel" since it is 75 per cent copper and 25 per cent nickel.

Coinage Takes Tons Of Metal

How much metal was needed to strike all our coins?

All totaled 9,749 tons was needed to make all five denominations for the fiscal year 1960, that is, from July 1, 1959 until June 30, 1960.

More copper is used than anything else, 7,656 tons of it. Silver is next with 1,405 tons, followed by 348 tons of nickel, and 340 tons of zinc and tin.

Since collectors are more interested in a calendar year figures, the Mint Report gives these for 1959. These are for all coins dated 1959:

Total 9,102 tons divided between 1,421 tons of silver, 7,097 tons of copper, 260 tons of nickel, and 324 tons of zinc and tin.

Foreign Coins Struck At Philly

The Philadelphia Mint manufactured all the coins struck here for foreign countries.

Eighteen different denominations were struck for six countries in calendar year 1959.

These coins were manufactured for Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, Korea, Liberia, Philippines, and Venezuela.

First started in 1876, the minting of coins for foreign countries began as a protective measure. United States coins were being taken to other countries and circulated.

When the coins became worn and mutilated, they were returned to this country for new coins. Recognizing this, a law was passed January 29, 1874, authorizing the coinage for foreign countries.

This had several advantages. Our coins were kept here, and it gave the other countries their own nationalistic coinage.

Over six billion coins have been specially struck for 37 countries since this practice first started, 84 years ago.

Table 14 in the current Mint Report gives the 1959 coinage by country, denomination, number coined, composition, and weight.

A summary of all the foreign coinage in the United States is given in tables 21 and 22.

The U.S. has made as few as 100,000 coins for Greenland to a whopping 1.7 billion for the Netherlands East Indies. The latter was made during World War II when Netherlands' own mint was in the hands of the German occupation forces.

A Weekly Report To Our Readers

Statistics And Interesting
Information from your COIN
WORLD Circulation Dept.

CECIL WATKINS

Subscription To Coin World Pays Off

The following letter accompanied the two-year subscription application received this week from George Al Fortin, Deep River, Conn., and we thought you would be interested in it.

"Thank you so much for the sample copy of Coin World. I appreciate it very much. The day before I was all ready to buy a coin from a collector here but did not have the cash on hand and the bank had closed at 3:00 o'clock.

"The next day I received your paper and I saved two to three hundred dollars. I am new in the A.N.A., so again I want to thank you. Here is my money order for 104 weeks of Coin World."

Humor Accompanies Subscription

One of our new subscribers, and we are not mentioning the name, has a very good reason for sending his order.

Written along the side of the blank was the following: "This should stop Nick from snitching the copy of Coin World that I have been borrowing from Eddie".

Maybe Coin World has been giving more mileage than we were aware of.

Youngstown Library Receiving C.W.

If you have been browsing around the Youngstown, Ohio, Public Library lately, no doubt you saw copies of COIN WORLD available to its patrons.

The subscription was started with the first issue in May and was made possible through the thoughtfulness of Glen Marsh of that city.

What better way is there to encourage interest in Numismatics?

Numismatically yours,

Cecil Watkins

Clubs Merge For Exhibit At La Mesa

The La Mesa Numismatic Society and the La Mesa Philatelic Society, La Mesa, Calif., recently held their joint stamp and coin exhibit at the city's Youth Center.

Ten exhibitors displayed 12 cases of numismatic material, and, for the first time, the general public participated in the voting.

Coin exhibit winners were: first, Aage Anderson, Philippine coins and currency; second, Russell Rulau, Civil War tokens, medals and decorations; third, Gary Beals, trade dollars of the world. Paul Hamm with his so-called dollars took the best-in-show and most popular exhibit award.

Next meeting is scheduled for Monday, June 19, 8:00 p.m., at the Porter Park Recreation Center. Theme of a special exhibit will be "Fathers and Flags" to commemorate both Father's Day and Flag Day.

TNA Official Guest Of Club

The Victoria Numismatic Club, Victoria, Texas, held its recent meeting at the Victoria National Bank auditorium.

James Chambers, of Port Lavaca, Texas, a guest, spoke to the club members about the Texas Numismatic Association. Chambers is a candidate for TNA district representative.

A "nickel swap" was also one of the evening's highlights.

Next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, June 20, 7:30 p.m., at the Victoria National Bank.

Coin Test

1—What U.S. coin before 1900 had two designers?

2—What was the Columbian Quarter?

3—What was the first Commemorative coin to carry the motto "In God We Trust"?

4—John R. Sinnock designed the Franklin Half dollar and Roosevelt dime; G. T. Morgan is known for the Silver Dollar. What coin did both collaborate on?

5—What was the first Commemorative dollar?

small date, but that is not what you asked.

Which brings up the question, what is a Mint Set? As traditionally meant and understood, it is a set of coins in BU condition issued by and from the Mint through the Treasury Department in Washington and from no other source.

A Mint Set differs from a Proof set in that the Mint Set is composed of regular issue coins that are ordered from the Treasury, while a Proof set is of specially issued coins and ordered from Philadelphia. Either can be bought from a dealer, eventually, or direct from the original source, by anybody.

This meaning has been gradually corrupted by some people to mean any set of BU coins that anybody wants to put together to represent the complete coinage of any one year of any one Mint, without reference to the Treasury or any other source.

To us, that is not a "Mint Set" but merely a set of coins of the same date and Mint, according to description. But a "Mint Set" means a sealed packet of BU coins originating at the Mint and sold by the Treasury, regardless of how many hands that packet has passed through afterwards. If it becomes unsealed, there can be no proof that it was a "Mint Set" since substitutions could then be made, and anybody could put it together, from rolls or otherwise.

Harry D. Kirby of Richmond, Va., sends in a photo of a 1934 Lincoln cent which seems to have had St. Vitus' Dance. He wants to know if it is genuine and whether or not it is unique.

ANSWER: There is no reason to doubt its being genuine, and it might or might not be unique but very well could be. There is no die defect involved which would carry on through several impressions. The screws holding the die worked loose and the die "shimmied".

Every coin is struck several times in order to get the best impressions, and if either the coin or the die shifts at all between any of those striking we get odd effects. Any one such "effect" would probably be unique since it would be unlikely for the same thing to happen in exactly the same way even on two consecutive coins.

It is also likely that any such loosening of either die or collar would be noticed by an experienced Mint employee almost immediately and fixed.

This is a different proposition from the re-engraved or re-cut die where either a working die or the master die was "touched up". In either of those cases, the effect would remain on successive coins until the die was repaired or discarded or wore down.

Herron Speaks At Noblesville

George Herron, Fishers, Ind., will speak on his collection of "Political Science" at the next regular meeting of the Central Indiana Collectors Club, to be held at the Firestone Cafeteria, Noblesville, June 20.

The public is invited to this session, according to Mrs. Hazel M. Landis, secretary.

Chester J. Bentley Jr. is president of the club; Hazel M. Landis, secretary-treasurer. Members of the board of directors are Joseph R. Howard, George Herron and Mrs. Thomas Applegate.

New Club At Waverly

Waverly Coin Club, Waverly, Iowa, has recently been organized. Meetings are to be held on the third Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the State Bank of Waverly.

A coin meeting has been scheduled for the June 15 meeting.

Club officers are: Duane Pichelman, president; E. J. Maxfield, vice president; Don Freeman, secretary; Wayne Koenen, treasurer. Directors are Howard Smith, Jack Friel and Reede Doty. All are from Waverly except Friel and Doty who are from Cedar Falls and Clarksville, Iowa, respectively.

Club secretary Freeman said that Waverly has 16 regular members and three junior members. He hopes that membership will be doubled soon since collectors from towns neighboring Waverly have indicated interest in the club.

Additional information may be obtained by writing to Don Freeman at 503 Seventh street, N. W., Waverly, Iowa.

Mobile Collectors Form Society

Official formation of the Mobile, Ala., Numismatic Society is being announced, following a series of organizational meetings to adopt a charter and by-laws, George T. de Hueck, charter president, announced.

Under sponsorship of long-time members of the American Numismatic Association, the club was formed in response to the growing need to provide facilities for the rapidly increasing number of collectors in the greater Mobile area.

Present plans call for regular monthly meetings throughout the year to study the history and other aspects of coins, currency, and tokens, both ancient and modern.

Each meeting will be followed by a private auction and trading session. Bourse table facilities will be available for dealers for a nominal fee.

Plans are also underway for an annual public auction which is expected to draw numismatists from many surrounding states.

Programs planned for the current year include addresses by distinguished numismatists, a series of slide programs prepared by the American Numismatic Association and specially prepared motion pictures.

Elected to the Mobile Numismatic Society's board of Governors were: M. C. Altmayer, Nathan Berger, W. C. Blount, Anna S. Loading, Mrs. Leonard Metzger, and Paul B. Schmol. The following were elected officers of the Society: George T. de Hueck, president; Dr. Jack O. Yeager, vice president; and Mrs. Lucie F. Rhodes, secretary. All are members of the ANA.

Juniors Meet Along With Elders

The Pendleton Coin Club, Pendleton, Ore., held its recent meeting at the Chamber of Commerce building. The club's junior members also met at the same location.

Membership is limited at this time to adults. A junior section is under consideration as a special club project at a later date. Meanwhile, youngsters accompanied by their parents will be welcomed.

Individuals interested in the new coin club may address requests applications to Mrs. Lucie F. Rhodes, 6412 Waverly Drive North, Mobile, Alabama. Meetings are tentatively scheduled for the fourth Thursday of each month at the Admiral Semmes Hotel in Mobile.

Tri-State Group Plans Meet

The Greater Ozarks Numismatic Association will hold its fall convention in the Goldman Hotel, Fort Smith, Ark., November 4 and 5.

The association is composed of coin clubs in southern Missouri, eastern Oklahoma and Arkansas. It became an American Numismatic Association affiliate in 1959.

James F. Vaughn, Fort Smith, Ark., is president; Haskell Trusty, Joplin, Mo., vice president, and D. F. Ludwick, Fort Smith, secretary-treasurer.

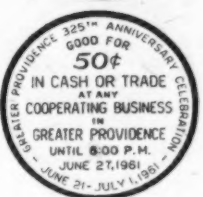

A thousand collectors and 50 dealers assembled for the recent meeting of the association, held in Muskogee, Okla. May 12-14.

Dealers from a number of surrounding states are expected at the Fort Smith convention in November; approximately 40 can be accommodated. Bourse tables or information can be obtained by writing D. F. Ludwick, P. O. Box 628, Fort Smith, Ark.

D. F. Ludwick, secretary of the group, said an outstanding variety of coins and currency will be displayed during the convention. It is also hoped one of the original 1913 Liberty nickels can be obtained for display purposes.

How To Get 16,000 At A Coin-Stamp Show

How would you manage a stamp and coin show that drew 16,000 in attendance?

Adam P. O'Gorek of Buffalo, N. Y., tells the secrets behind a large turnout. O'Gorek acted as chairman of the coin section of a coin and stamp show, jointly sponsored by the Bison City Coin Club and the Adam Plewacki Post Stamp Society.

Over 16,000 visited the show during its three-day run at the Legion Hall of the Adam Plewacki Post in downtown Buffalo.

O'Gorek outlined the steps taken by the show committee in promoting widespread interest as follows:

One, Theme of the show was a popular one, a tribute to the Centennial of the Civil War.

Two, the City of Buffalo endorsed the show, as did the Chamber of Commerce.

Three, the Adam Plewacki American Legion post chose a Coin and Stamp queen for this event.

Four, festivities were kicked off with a banquet for over 100. A prominent guest speaker was invited—John Pitman spoke on and displayed part of his collection of Polish proofs and patterns. Pitman purchased his coins from the Farouk holdings at Cairo in 1954, reputed to be the largest collection of its type in the world.

Five, publicity was handled in such a way that the show was covered by four local TV stations, all the radio stations, and two daily newspapers.

Six, the U. S. Post Office Department cooperated to a high degree. The department brought for display its newest and largest globe which rotates with the theme, in large letters, "Philately Promotes Friendship Throughout the World." The globe, a beautiful work of art, had been recently exhibited in Europe and was brought to Buffalo by special arrangement.

Seven, the Post Office also maintained a philatelic window for the full three days. Over 104,000 commemorative stamps were sold, and a special stamp show cancellation was permitted. Business was so brisk that postal officials plan to add one more clerk for next year's show.

Eight, the U. S. Army had on display for three days — near the Legion Hall — a two-stage Nike-Ajax missile.

"We hope that other clubs planning to stage stamp and coin shows might be able to use some of these suggestions," commented O'Gorek. "At least we here in Buffalo know that ideas of this type really get out the crowds."

New Medal Honors Shepard

The Medal-of-the-Month Club of Sioux Falls, S. D., this week announced the striking of a commemorative medal honoring Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. and the Project Mercury space program.

Cmdr. Shepard was the first American to be sent into space as part of the country's space exploration program. The Project Mercury program reached its greatest achievement with the May 5 space flight.

Commemorative medal by Medal-of-the-Month Club, honoring Commander Alan B. Shepard Jr. and the Project Mercury space program.

The obverse of the medal shows a redstone rocket as it leaves the launching pad in a cloud of smoke and flame. The legend reads, "Project Mercury—Manned Space Flight—Cape Canaveral, Fla. U.S.A.—Redstone Rocket" and is dated May 5, 1961.

The reverse shows the space capsule in which Cmdr. Shepard rode during his historic flight. It is shown in a cutaway version to better show how Shepard appeared during the flight.

The legend on the reverse reads, "Astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. in space capsule 'Freedom Seven' traveled 115 miles into space and returned safely to earth on May 5, 1961."

As is the regular policy of the Month Club, the quantity of medals struck will be limited. Five thousand sterling silver and 10,000 nickel silver medals are all that will be struck from these dies. After that quantity is sold, all additional orders will be returned.

The number of medals an individual collector can purchase is also limited to eight sterling silver and 10 nickel silver.

The Project Mercury commemorative medal is 1 5/16 inches in diameter (34mm). Special holders of three-layer plastic in this size are available from the club.

This is a regular issue of the Medal-of-the-Month Club, and will be sent to subscribing members automatically, but members wishing to have more than their regular subscription (up to the number limited) should place their orders early.

The Project Mercury medal is the June Medal-of-the-Month.

The May commemorative of the club was the medal marking the first manned orbital space flight accomplished by the Russian Cosmonaut Major Yuri Gagarin on April 12.

This medal shows a replica of the Russian space capsule which is in many ways similar to the U.S. capsule, but does contain many easily noticeable differences. The legend on the obverse of the medal reads, "First Manned Orbital Space Flight." The reverse gives a short paragraph on the facts of the flight itself.

Although the supply of the "Orbital Space Flight" medal is not exhausted, the number of medals remaining is definitely limited.

Both the Project Mercury and the orbital flight medal are available for $1.25 in nickel silver and $3.75 in sterling silver.

New Name For Dakota Medal Firm

An expansion of operations and a change in name is being announced by the former Coin of the Month Club, Sioux Falls, S. D., according to Merle Thiele.

It's now the Medal-of-the-Month Club to better describe the operation which deals with the issuing of a commemorative medal each month, Thiele said.

The club has added personnel and is departmentalizing to better serve collectors.

In making the announcement, it was brought out that the purposes of the club will not be changed, and the services provided to collectors would remain the same as in the past. The Medal-of-the-Month Club will continue to give the same commemoratives at the same prices.

The Medal-of-the-month Club made an extensive survey of both members and non-members and found that most collectors prefer to have their commemorative medals struck in a limited number of metals.

By far the greatest number of those surveyed favored sterling silver and nickel silver as the two best metals.

Thus future issues of the Medal-of-the-Month club will be in sterling silver and nickel silver only.

Also because of the great response from collectors they are able to strike larger numbers of sterling silver Commemoratives and bring a reduction in the unit price to the collectors.

The new sterling silver monthly subscription rate is $3.75 for an individual medal.

The yearly sterling rate will be $37.50 for all 12 issues, and the six-month rate has been reduced to $21.75.

Nickel silver commemorative medal subscriptions will remain at the $12 per year price. The six-month and monthly rates of $6.50 (six months) and $1.25 (per month) will remain the same.

Yearly rates for both metals are based on 10-month individual prices, thus they offer 12 medals each year for the price normally charged for 10 at the monthly rate.

A set of both medals—one in sterling and the other nickel silver—have been set at $4.75 per month, or $27.75 for six months and $47.50 per year.

A lower mintage of the Medal-of-the-Month Club commemoratives has also been adopted, making each individual medal more desirable and giving it more potential value.

The sterling silver will be limited to only 5,000 per medal and nickel silver will be limited to 10,000 per medal. After this number has been struck, the dies will be made unusable, and displayed in the Club Archives.

Interested persons can receive information by writing to: Medal-of-the-Month Club, Dept. A, Sioux Falls, S. D.

The Romance of MONEY

Joe Elliott of New Castle, Ind., reports dealers are offering the famous Lady Godiva half penny of 1792-1795 as an American colonial coin. This coin, known officially as the Coventry half penny, bore the likeness of Lady Godiva as she rode nude on horseback through the streets of the town.

We can find no evidence that this ever was used as an American colonial coin, of which there were hundreds, of course. This Coventry halfpenny, one of many famous tokens of England, is found with two different reverses; one has an elephant as the central design, the other is known as the Coventry Cross.

Most of the colonial coins minted in England and circulating in the American states were struck long before 1792. By this time, the colonists were busily readying their one monetary system. In fact, the first experimental coins had been struck at the Philadelphia Mint by then. First coin struck by federal authority by the new, free nation was a cent of 1787.

The English tokens comprise a field alone and many persons — even in this country — specialize in these coins. Canada and the United States have tokens also, but the field is not as great as that of England. The English tokens date back to the early 15th century.

Every school boy knows the story of Lady Godiva, either through reading of it in English history or seeing the movie version on television. Maureen O'Hara was a beautiful Lady Godiva.

Lady Godiva and her husband Leofric, Earl of Leicester (apparently a feudal lord) lived at the time of Edward the Confessor. The earl's people complained constantly about taxes, but he did nothing to alleviate the situation. His wife took up the problem of the people, urging Leofric to reduce taxes. He perhaps laughed at her and pointed out that no where else in England were taxes being cut. He may even have said that she was centuries ahead of her time and that women did not discuss politics, advise husbands and/or support the little people.

What obviously was his final attempt at a brush off came when he said he would lower taxes if his wife rode nude through the streets of Coventry. This she did, covered only by her beautiful, long red hair (at least Miss O'Hara's hair was long and red and beautiful). Maureen rode sidesaddle. Men were not allowed to see Lady Godiva's ride but millions watched Miss O'Hara.

MENTION "COIN WORLD" IN ANSWERING ANY AD!

I APOLOGIZE - I GOOFED!

In my last ad I offered Lincoln Memorial Cent Sets. At that time I had 600 of these on hand and didn't dream that they would be gobbled up in just a few days. So I had to return several hundred checks and believe me, as a collector I KNOW how disappointing that can be! I should have foreseen this. Consider these facts: The U.S. Small Cent Series is more popular than all others combined. The Lincoln Memorial Cent is the beginning of a NEW set. The 1960 Small Dates are and will be the Key Coins of this set — the 1909-SVDB and 1914-D's of tomorrow!

Imagine 5 years from now when the LINCOLN MEMORIAL Cent Set will number 18 pieces and 10 million collectors will have completely absorbed all the Early Dates. It is truly THE SET OF TOMORROW!

I had to go out and buy more of these and in order to get choice hand picked rolls, I had to pay thru the nose.

I can now offer these choice brilliant uncirculated Lincoln Memorial sets, 1959-PD thru 1961-PD including gem 1960-PD small dates, individually packed in cello envelopes and cardboard boxes. $4.25

Hibler, Kappen Revise So-Called Dollars Book

Hal E. Hibler has announced that he and Prof. Charles V. Kappen are revising and extending the late Richard D. Kenney's so-called Dollars: Guide Book and Standard Catalog. Publication target date has been set at December 31, 1961.

The revision will be divided into three parts: Commemorative and Exposition Medals of National Interest; Commemorative and Exposition Medals of Localized Interest; and Monetary and Miscellaneous Issues.

Hibler-Kappen have set down the following working outline for their new guidebook and catalog: United States only.

Minimum Diameter—Size 21 (1 5/16 in. or 33 mm.)
Maximum diameter—Size 28 (1 1/4 in. or 45 mm.); but Bryan dollars will be listed.

No holed or looped material unless struck plain also.

No purely presidential or political medals.

No school, college or athletic medals; no coin club or U.S. armed forces medals.

No calendar or store cards; no trade tokens or emergency money.

No unique items (except perhaps in the appendix).

"Some of the material excluded above is too abundant to permit proper consideration," commented Hibler in a recent letter, "while other subjects have been covered long since by better qualified authorities. We will deal only with commemorative, exposition, monetary and kindred medals of approximate silver dollar size."

"Our objective is to publish the best and most comprehensive reference work possible," added Hibler. Background stories, requiring years of research, will accompany most issues appearing in the first and third parts. Photos, of course, are a must; and the book will be cloth bound and well indexed, including a cross index.

Kenney listed a total of 33 issues and 181 medals, but the Hibler-Kappen revision already contemplates 150 issues and about 500 medals.

The authors invite collectors to cooperate in their endeavor. In a joint statement they said: "You are welcome to submit a list of your medals — not listed in Kenney—which meet all of the above conditions. We need date, brief description, metal and size; e.g. '1906—Pike's Peak, Bronze, Size 22. Please do not send medals at this time. All lists will be acknowledged."

Communications should be addressed to Hal E. Hibler, 60 Brattle street, Cambridge 38, Mass., or to Prof. Charles V. Kappen, 2201 Peachtree Lane, San Jose 28 Calif.

Fair To Very Fine West Coast Dean Shares Knowledge With Writer

By James G. Johnson
I was extremely pleased recently to receive a letter from a numismatist whom I call one of the "grand old men" of numismatics, M. H. Bolender of San Marino, Calif. I suspect he probably would object to that description on the grounds that he does not feel like an old man, grand or otherwise. However, I hope he will excuse the phrase as I use it solely as a term of respect, without regard to calendar years.

M. H. Bolender is in his 55th year of numismatic experience which is part of his qualification. He has also contributed through study and writing to the general field of numismatic knowledge which qualifies him further, not to mention his definitive monograph on his 34 varieties of the 1795 half dollar.

And finally, his spirit of helpfulness to the beginner and his enthusiasm for numismatics after 50-odd years certainly entitle him to be known and respected by all, not by just his fellow "old timers".

In his letter, Mr. Bolender referred to the lead paragraph in this column of the June 2 issue, wherein was the statement that there is no literature on quarters. He reminds me that both Browning and Haseltine wrote on early quarters, and added that Haseltine as well as he himself had written on early half dollars.

As a matter of fact, I was mentally confining my remarks to the Washington quarter series but did not say so specifically, so he was right in taking me to task for the omission.

Mr. Bolender is a diplomat and a student of human nature. He softened his light rebuke by including some kind words about this column and what I am trying to do with it. Thank you, Mr. Bolender, and I sincerely wish you many more years of service to numismatics. You are giving back to the field much of what it has given you, and there can be no greater aim.

Numismatics is a field of traditions, which can best be passed on by word of mouth, through people like M. H. Bolender. It is people like him that make us realize that "coin collecting" has a good deal more to offer than just putting coins in holes, although that is an almost essential beginning. It is what gets most of us interested in the first place. Then it takes the Bolenders of numismatics to show us that a filled hole is far from the end of collecting, that it is, indeed, just the beginning, if we are willing to give it a chance.

And for us to see ahead, we must be familiar with the literature of numismatics and the men who wrote it, and are still writing it. Familiarity with their names helps to give us pride in what we are doing, pride in the knowledge that we are carrying on a tradition along with several million others, and not just wandering alone through a Whitman folder.

I am not for a minute getting away from the idea that coin collecting or its larger term, numismatics, is first, last, and always, a hobby. But it is not an aimless hobby nor just a pastime. It is a hobby with meaning that has a closer tie with history than anything except a history book, (Continued on Page 41)

Fair-Fine...

and it can mean as much to us as we will let it. The possibilities are there, and it is men like Mr. Bolender who help to show us what they are.

I did not mean to get into a sermon, but I have warned you readers once or twice that sometimes I talk too much when I feel strongly about a subject. Put it down to my own enthusiasm for numismatics and excuse me for it, once more. My "Big Boss", the publisher of this paper, warned me when I started, not to get too "pedantic" in my column, and if I have done so, I apologize and will try to do better in future. Now I expect I should change the subject.

R. E. Plummer of Crestline, Ohio, has written in that he has one of the 1828 half dollars with a square base knobbed "2", and has never been able to find one like it. He has had his for many years.

And now comes R. E. Cox Jr., of Fort Worth who says he has one in proof. He bought it at an auction sale wherein it was described as an "1828 small 8's, large letters....acquired many years ago from one of the old time dealers".

The Red Book lists the 1828 small 8's with square base "2", but does not say whether the "2" is knobbed, and the illustration is not quite clear enough to tell. Since the varieties that have a knobbed "2" seem to include that in their descriptions, the implication is that all others are supposed to be not knobbed, just curled like the one dated 1827 at the top of page 115.

In the center of the same page, there is an illustration of an "1828 large 8 curled base knobbed "2" and the "knob" is clear enough, although the description does not match anything priced above it, as far as the "8" is concerned. Nowhere is there mention of a "Square base, knobbed 2", and that is where we came in.

What kind of "2" is "normal" for the date when the square base is present, knob top or curl top? The expert, to whom I originally referred Mr. Anderson of McKinney, Texas, reported that he found no reference in any half dollar authority to a knobbed and square base combination for 1828, hence it must be a new discovery, but did not mention his own holdings.

On the other hand, what I wanted to know was whether the omission was intentional because that combination was normal, as a dealer told another collector who wrote me. The dealer, however, was thinking about the size of the 8's and letters, and not about the kind of "2". I would like to hear from specialists in early halves describing the kinds of tops on their 1828 square base "2's". Then maybe we will "get some place". The size of the 8's is immaterial, unless the large or small are found with one kind of "2" or the other, assuming the square base throughout.

Several readers have written that they have the same kind of "2" but on other dates. For all I know, other dates have only one kind of "2", but we can investigate that, also, later. If Beistle had only illustrated his book, we might know some answers.

But he didn't, so we have to ask the specialists. Now, it's their turn, and I assume that any specialist in early half dollars would be equally interested in the answers. When anything comes, I'll report it here.

Since writing the above, I received a letter from Al Overton of Pueblo, Colo., one of the authorities on early half dollars. I don't have room to report what he says in this week's column, but I will next week. He does make some interesting statements, among which is the fact that he believes Anderson's half dollar of 1828 is Beistle's 1828 8-L. More on this next week.

"SO-CALLED DOLLARS: Guide Book and Standard Catalog"

By H. E. Hibler and C. V. Kappen

(Copyright 1961 by Harold E. Hibler)

Most collectors of this material, along with many dealers, know of efforts initiated sometime ago to revise and extend the late Richard D. Kenney's "So-called Dollars".

It now is most gratifying to announce collaboration by Prof. Charles V. Kappen, San Jose, Calif. — with publication target date of December 31, 1961.

Book will be divided into three (3) Parts:

Part I—Commemorative and Exposition Medals of National Interest.

Part II—Commemorative and Exposition Medals of Localized Interest.

Part III—Monetary and Miscellaneous Issues.

All Subject To The Following:

1. United States ONLY.
2. Min. Diameter - Size 21 (1 5/16 in. or 33 mm).
3. Max. Diameter - Size 28 (1 3/4 in. or 45 mm); BUT Bryan Dollars will be listed.
4. No holed or looped material UNLESS struck plain also.
5. No purely Presidential or Political medals.
6. No School, College or Athletic medals; no Coin Club or U.S. Armed Forces medals.
7. No Calendar or Store Cards; No Trade Tokens or Emergency Money.
8. No Unique items (except, perhaps, in Appendix).

Some of material excluded above is too abundant to permit of proper consideration, while other subjects have been covered long since by better qualified authorities. We will deal only with Commemorative, Exposition, Monetary and kindred medals of approximate silver dollar size.

Mr. Kenney listed a total of but 33 issues (20 in Part I, 13 in Part II) and 181 medals. THIS REVISION ALREADY CONTEMPLATES 150 ISSUES AND ABOUT 500 MEDALS.

Our objective is to publish the best and most comprehensive reference work possible. Background stories, requiring years of research, will accompany most issues appearing in Parts I and III. Photos, of course, are a must; book will be cloth bound and well indexed, including a cross-index with Kenney.

AN INVITATION:

If you would like to cooperate in this endeavor, you are welcome to submit list of your medals - NOT LISTED IN KENNEY - WHICH MEET ALL OF THE ABOVE CONDITIONS. We need date, brief description, metal and size, e.g. "1906 - Pike's Peak, Bronze, Size 22." PLEASE DO NOT SEND MEDALS AT THIS TIME. ALL LISTS WILL BE ACKNOWLEDGED.

Pittman

Pittman favors a national headquarters building to be built with and supported by funds received through an ANA endowment building fund which is now in operation.

He also favors expansion of the ANA Board of Governors. The long term plan of the ANA for the continued expansion and maintenance of the ANA Library is believed by Pittman to be of prime importance.

Pittman's tenacity of purpose, the protection of the collector and the reputation of numismatics are at stake is also a part of his record. In 1960 while attending a regional convention, Pittman's extensive numismatic knowledge and keen observation enabled him to detect a number of counterfeit U. S. gold coins which had entered the country.

After notification of the proper government authorities, ANA cooperation in the investigation led to the elimination of this source of counterfeit gold coins, the continued importation of which would have been detrimental to numismatists as well as to numismatics.

Pittman is a serious student of numismatics and has a large collection of numismatic books and other material useful and interesting to the scholar. Furthermore, he is always ready and willing to make this information available for the good of numismatics and the advancement of knowledge about our hobby.

John Pittman has also been chairman of the American Numismatic Society Committee on Contemporary Coins since 1954, having been a member of the committee since 1944. This committee has the responsibility of reporting and describing new and recent issues from all countries of the world.

Since 1959 he has been an elected director of the Canadian Numismatic Association for the Eastern U. S. and has served as New York state representative for CNA since 1958.

He has written numismatic articles and has contributed to every edition of the Standard Catalogue of Canadian Coins, Tokens and Paper Money. Pittman is familiar with the manufacture of coins and medals and has visited working mints in many foreign countries, including the mints at Ottawa, Mexico City, Paris and London.

In 1947, he was appointed by the president of the United States and served as a member of the U. S. Annual Assay Commission at which time his knowledge of chemistry and metallurgy was particularly useful.

As a collector and exhibitor, John Pittman has been dubbed "the traveling numismatist" and "the good will ambassador of numismatics" by his many friends, since he is a faithful attendant and exhibitor at coin gatherings all over the U. S. and Canada.

His outstanding exhibits of U. S., Canadian and British Empire, Mexican and Swedish coins have won many local, regional and ANA Convention awards. On two occasions, his displays have won the B. Max Mehl award recently established by the Professional Numismatists Guild.

Pittman excels as an amateur auctioneer and his distinctive "tobacco auction" style of auctioneering has brought in many an extra dollar in club and convention donation auctions. An able public speaker, he has acted as master of ceremonies for numerous local and regional numismatic conventions and banquets and speaks frequently on coins to non-numismatic audiences.

Pittman is Life Member No. 152 of the ANA, a Life Fellow in the ANS, Life Member No. 5 of the CNA. His other numismatic affiliations include membership in the Society of Tokens, Medals, Obsolete Paper Money Collectors, honorary membership in the Toronto, Canada, Coin Club and the Nickel Belt Coin Club (Sudbury, Ontario, Canada), membership in numerous local clubs and regional organizations including the Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association, Empire State (New York) Numismatic Association, Penn-Ohio Coin Clubs, Central States Numismatic Society, North Carolina Coin Clubs Association, Michigan State Numismatic Society, Florida United Numismatics, and the South Africa Numismatic Society.

He served as president of MANA for four terms (1954, '55, '59, '60) and as president of ESNA for three terms (1956, '57, '58). He has been a member of the Rochester Numismatic Association since 1943 and has served in various offices including that of president in 1950.

John Pittman was born in Virginia, grew up there and in North Carolina and was graduated as a chemical engineer from the University of North Carolina. Graduate work in industrial chemistry was taken at the University of North Carolina and the University of Rochester.

After working in chemistry and chemical engineering in Tennessee and Ohio, Pittman has spent the past 25 years as a chemist and chemical engineer in Rochester, New York, with a large photographic and photographic chemicals manufacturing company.

During World War II Pittman served as a member of the subcommittee on Optical Instruments of the Tropical Deterioration Committee of the Office of Scientific Research and Development and received the National Defense Research Certificate of Merit recognizing the work which he did in connection with the activities of this committee.

In World War II he also served as a member of the U. S. Strategic Bombing Survey in the European Theater of Operations as a member of the Optical and Precision Instrument group surveying war damage in optical and precision instrument plants.

Pittman is past chairman of the Superintendent and Production Supervisors Steering Committee of the Industrial Management Council of the Rochester Chamber of Commerce. He is past chairman of the Hobby Council of the Rochester Museum of Arts and Sciences and is active in a number of technical professional societies including the American Chemical Society and the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. He is married and is the father of three teen-age children.

Pennsylvania Clubs Join For Coin Show

Six eastern Pennsylvania coin clubs pooled their efforts in order to stage a recent show attended by over 1,000 persons.

The Red Rose and RCA Coin Clubs of Lancaster acted as hosts for the show held in the Odd Fellows Hall, 213 W. Chestnut street, in that city.

Other participating clubs were: Baron Stiegel, Manheim, Cloister, Ephrata; Conewago, Elizabeth-town; and the Columbia Coin Club, Columbia.

Twenty-three dealers participated in the bourse, while each club set up a special display. Among the more unusual items shown were an original shield of fractional currency, two old land grants, one signed by President Lincoln and the other by President Buchanan, and a display of odd and curious money. The latter included shell money, tree money, tiger money, and bullet money.

Everyone who attended the show was presented with an English farthing.

Julia Angstadt, secretary of the Baron Stiegel Coin Club, said that this six-club show will become an annual affair under the name of the Lancaster County Numismatic Association. The show will be staged in the towns of the sponsoring clubs in successive years.

Ohio Club Adds Members During NCW

The Tuscarawas County, Ohio, Coin Club announces a highly successful National Coin Week celebration with 53 new members and applications being received and several members joining the American Numismatic association.

The club had a total of 19 different displays in six different cities over the county. Proclamations declaring National Coin Week were received from Mayor Harold Evans of New Philadelphia, Mayor Clifford Froelich of Dover, and the governor of the state of Ohio, Michael DiSalle.

Special projects included exchange of coins and letters to several clubs, and several coin talks.

A weekly column was created called "Tuscarawas County Coin Club" which appeared in the Daily Times Newspaper to stimulate coin interest in the county, along with many other newspaper articles and photographs.

Several radio and television programs were coupled with radio spot announcements to complete the activities which places the club high in National Coin Week contest competition.

Ohioans To Hold Bourse

A bourse will be held at the Elks Club in Mt. Vernon, Ohio by a number of central Ohio dealers on Sunday, July 9.

Doors will be opened to dealers at 9 a.m., and to the public at 11 a.m.

R. J. Salisbury, of Box 745, Mt. Vernon, said that tables are $5 with case, and $4.50 without case.

"There will be only about 10 tables available," said Salisbury, "so send for your reservation now."

"This is not a conflicting date," added Salisbury, "and we should have a good crowd. There will be a short auction of about 30 desirable lots, which will include one or two lots for dealers and investors."

The Elks Club is located in Mt. Vernon's Public Square. Lunch will be served.

Almost Everyone Prefers America's First Family of Coin Albums

THE LIBRARY OF COINS

By Any Standard, Still The Best!

Complete visibility and complete protection, the two most-wanted features of a coin album, are presented for the first time by THE LIBRARY OF COINS. Bound like books, handsome and compact, each Library of Coins volume displays and protects its coins between two sliding panels of clear, tough plastic. Each coin "porthole" has printed next to it full data on mint mark and quantity minted. Each volume contains a brief background story on the coins, giving both the novice and advanced collector helpful information, including a listing of the rare dates.

Measuring 8 1/4" x 6 1/4", the volumes are low priced, sturdily manufactured, and permanently bound in a variety of identifying colors for the various denominations. Their compact size permits the storing of a large coin collection in very small space. Backbones are clearly gold stamped so that they are as readily identifiable as are books.

The Library of Coins represents the first major innovation in high grade coin albums in more than 30 years, and was several years in development. Designed by numismatists, the Library of Coins is designed to satisfy the needs and desires of numismatists. Write for descriptive circular on the Library of Coins.

THE PURE SILVER CENTENNIAL MEDAL....'30⁰⁰

Please note: Because of the limited issue, the silver medals are offered subject to being sold out. Those wishing silver medals should place their order now. Earlier this year many thousands were disappointed when their orders for silver Inaugural medals were placed too late. Because of the overwhelming national interest in the Civil War, it is expected that the silver medals will be quickly sold out.

Established dealers wishing to carry this medal for resale should write to us at once for our terms.
